DESIRABLE

Beaten Because She Told Tatum About Her Sister's "Admirer"

MISS KATHRYN MACARTHUR.

Beautiful daughter of Brooklyn contractor who had sister arrested for beating her, as she says, for refusing to marry a man she did not love. Other reasons for the trouble are hinted at and the airing of a sensational family row is promised before the case is finished.

Andes, N. Y., July 26.—All the principals in the Tatum-MacArthur family row, which has resulted in Mrs. John C. Tatum being held for the Delaware county grand jury in $2000 bail on a charge of assault brought by her sister, Miss Kathryn MacArthur, left here with the "startling exposures" threatened by both sides, still unrevealed. The story of the alleged assault upon

Miss MacArthur by her sister, because she refused to marry a man who had been picked out for her, was repeated, and Terence McManus, counsel for Mrs. Tatum, tried to show by letters of Mrs. Kathryn that the match was not an enforced one. Some of the letters the girl insisted had been dictated by Mr. Tatum.

The only hint of the promised sensation in the proceedings was when

Justice of the peace Johnson announced he would hold Mrs. Tatum. She jumped from her seat and shaking her fist at her father and her sister, shouted: "If this case goes beyond the grand jury we'll show up just what's back of it, and then you'll get the whole truth."

Mr. MacArthur is married a second time and it has been hinted that this may have more to do with the case than has yet appeared on the surface.

Another hint of what may be back of the case was brought out when Miss MacArthur was being questioned by her counsel. She was asked what Mr. Tatum had said to her when he and Mrs. Tatum came up to Shavers-town, where the alleged assault occurred on July 1.

"Mr. Tatum said," the witness replied, "I'll not ask you to come home. You should have told me about this. Mink (Mrs. Tatum's nickname) and I had a terrible fight a couple of nights ago. One of her admirers in New York—"

Miss MacArthur was about to mention a name when an objection from Mr. McManus checked her.

The first letter read by Mr. McManus was from Miss MacArthur to Frederick W. Peters, a manufacturer, of No. 315 East 2nd street, and father of the young man over whom the trouble between the sisters is said to have arisen.

"Great Neck, L. I., June 6, 1913. "Dear Mr. Peters: Please don't think that I have forgotten the kind letter you wrote me sometime ago, but you know how it is when you are engaged. I am very glad to have made Junior (the young man) so happy, and I am happy, too. Junior is a good and loyal man and I love him. On my birthday (June 30) I expect to announce our engagement."

"I have not shown you my ring, but is it a surprise for you to look forward to it? It is just grand. Junior has invited me to his birthday gathering on the 11th, and then you will see the surprise. I know it will be hard for you to wait, but just think how happy I shall be to have you see what a beauty it is. Tomorrow sister and I are going to Columbia university and hope to see Junior."

"How nice it is to have Margaret well again. With love to Mrs. Peters, Margaret and yourself. Lovingly, "Kathryn."

"That letter was dictated to me by Mr. Tatum," said the witness heatedly, when Mr. McManus had finished reading.

"In other words, you wrote a lie."

"Yes."

"You wrote that you loved Mr. Peters?"

"Yes, but I wrote falsely," she replied.

If Mrs. Tatum is convicted she may receive a sentence of five years.

BEAUTIFUL YARDS ADVERTISE A CITY

Park Commissioner Says El Paso Can Be Made as Beautiful as Los Angeles if the People Try

R. A. Harris, city park commissioner and head of the El Paso Nursery company, has returned from Los Angeles, where he went to secure a number of palms and shade and ornamental trees.

"Los Angeles is the most beautiful city in the west," said Mr. Harris today, "and it has been made so because the people take pride in their yards."

Their climate is little if any more favorable to growing such things than that of El Paso.

"All that is necessary here is to give proper care to plants and El Paso can be as beautiful as Los Angeles. Barren yards in any city make a poor showing, but pretty yards, well kept, always excite admiration and are a good advertisement for any city."

"The city of El Paso is doing its part in spending a big sum of money each year to beautify the parks. El Pasoans as individuals should do their part. It will come back many fold in increases in property values and the good advertisement it gives the city."
